Francis Marion College
Florence, South Carolina

Volume I

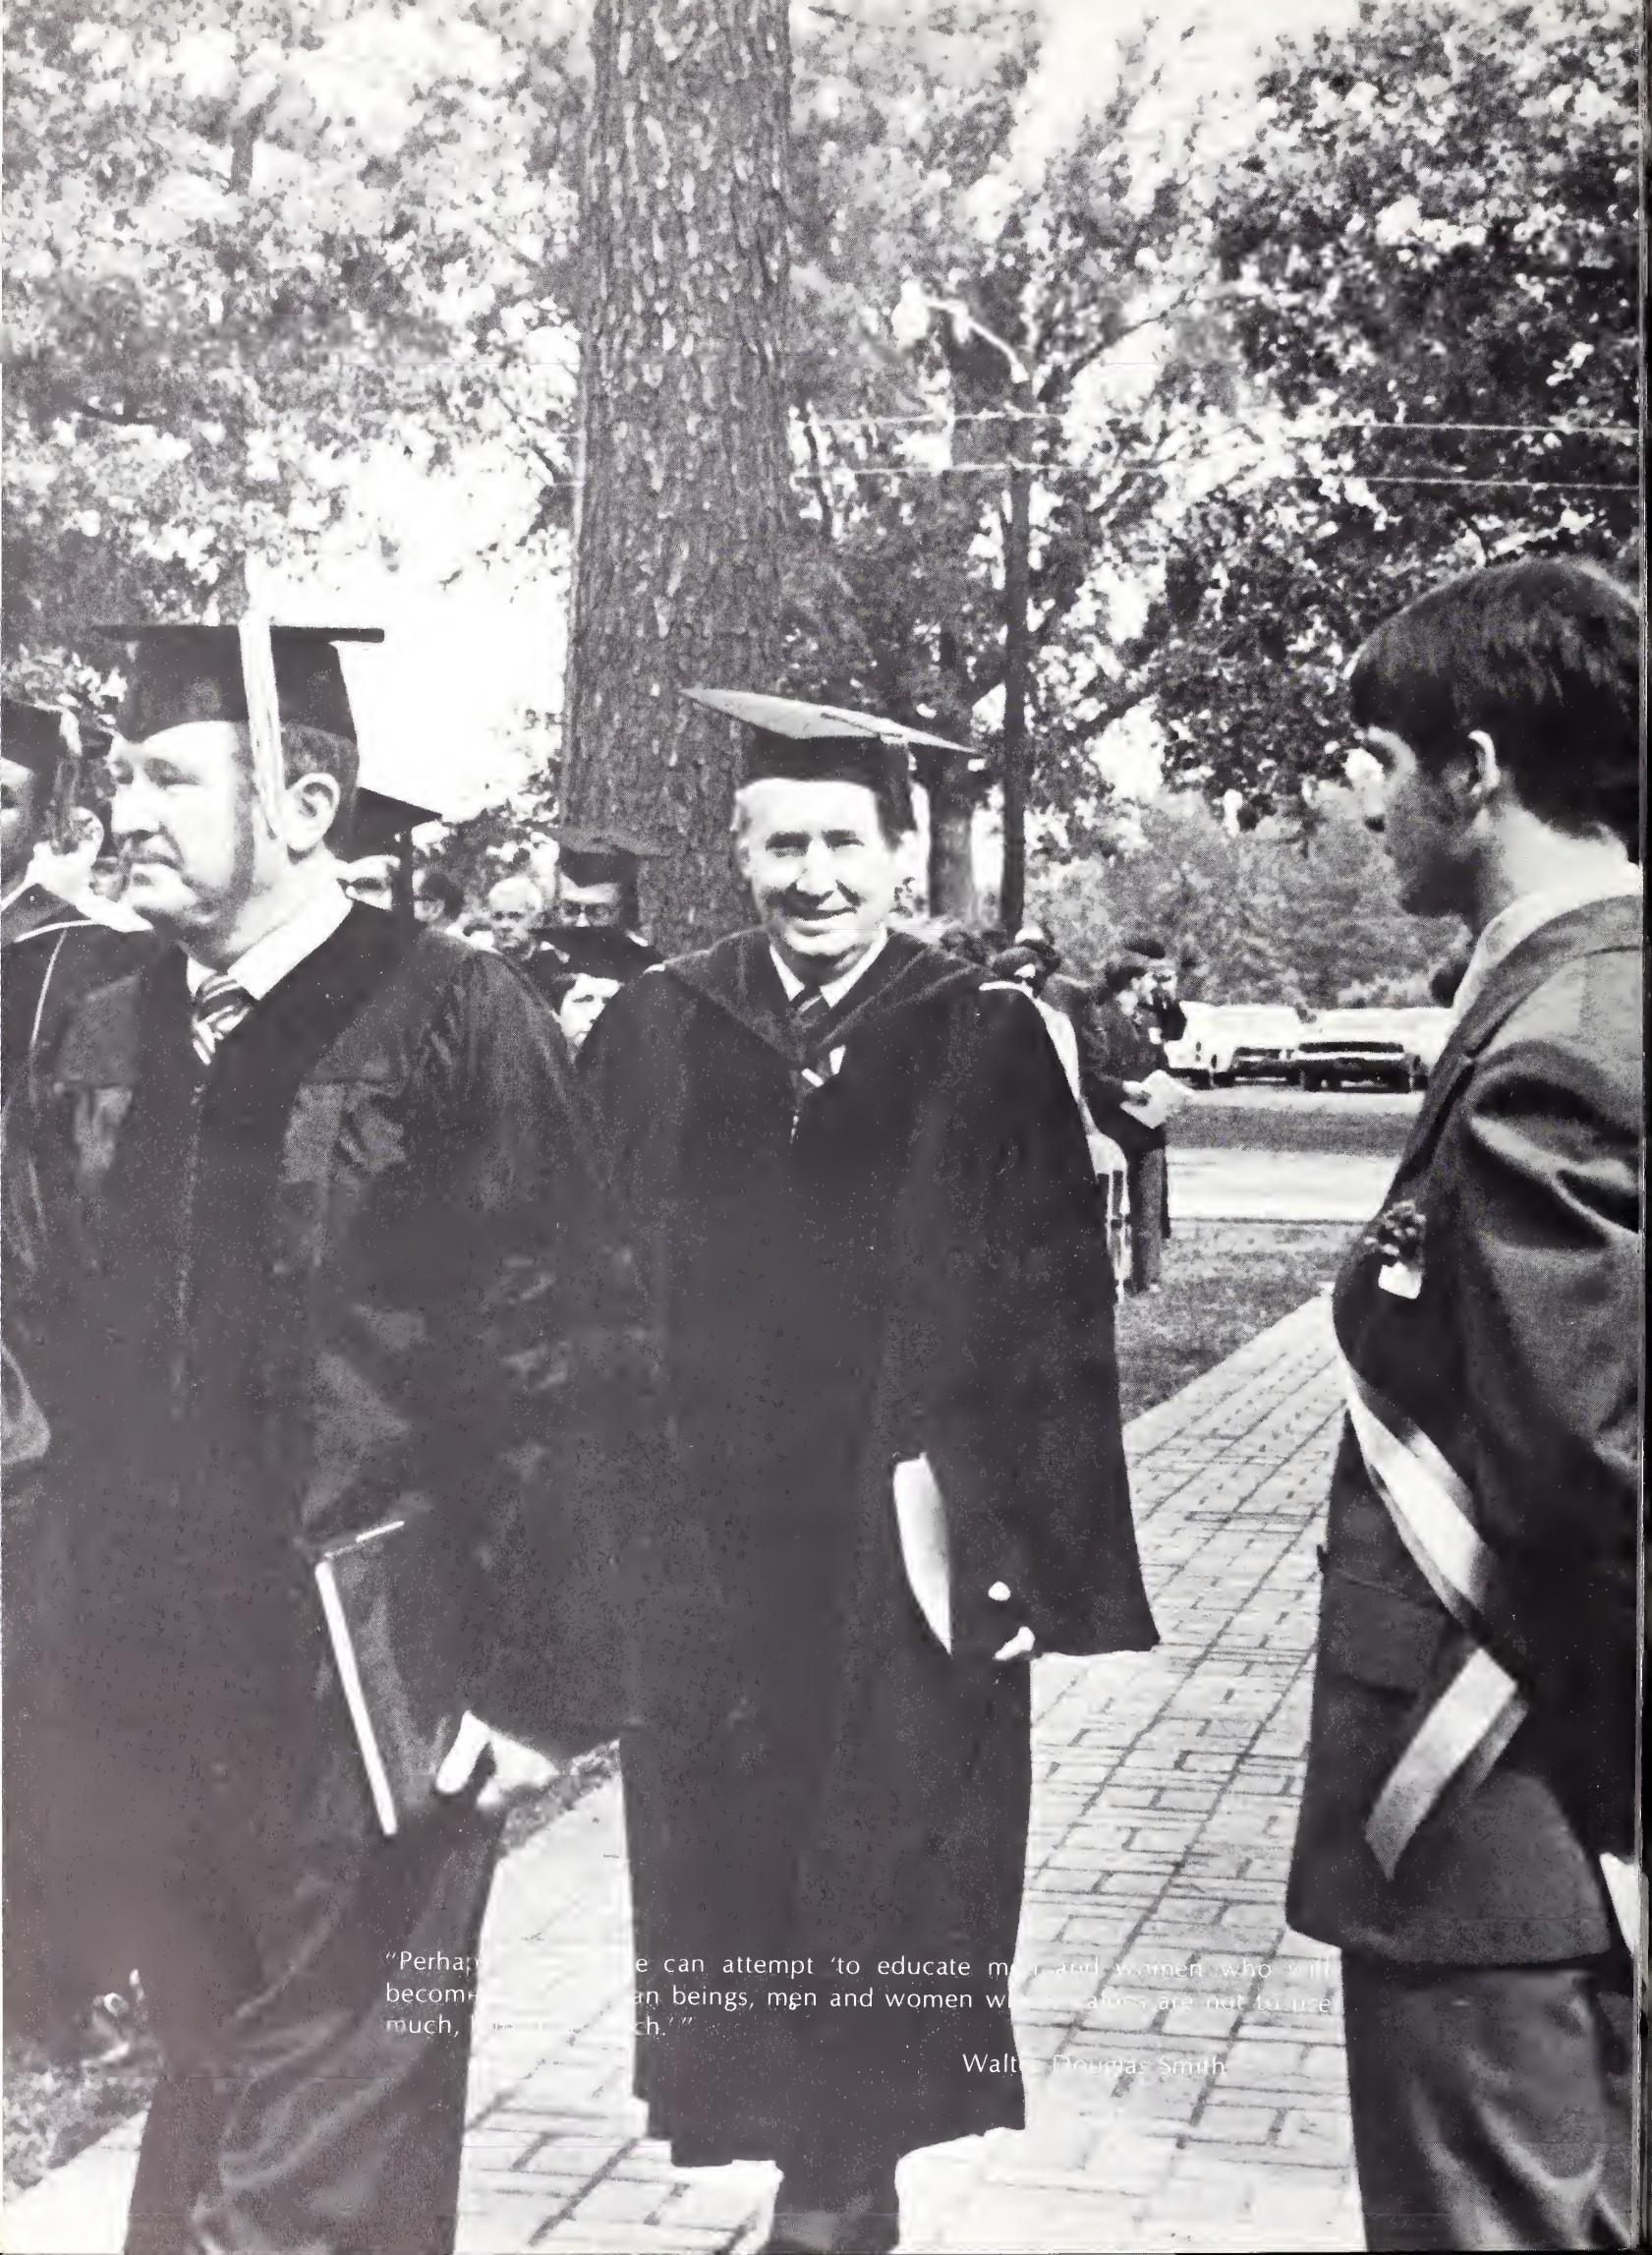

Named after one of South Carolina's Revolutionary War heroes, Francis Marion College was officially established on July 1, 1970, though it was created on July 25, 1969, when the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, the Speaker Pro Tempore of the House of Representatives, and the Governor of South Carolina signed the bill authorizing its establishment.

FRANCIS MARION COLLEGE

Standing as a memorial to the Wallace family, Wallace Hall houses the various administrative offices of the College. Stokes Hall, standing as another memorial to a patron of the College houses classrooms and faculty offices. Mars Bluff Hall provides additional classrooms and faculty offices but on a temporary basis.

"Perhaps
much."

e can attempt 'to educate men and women who will be human beings, men and women who are not to be used.'

Walter Thomas Smith

On October 2, 1970, educators from across the state met in Florence for the Inauguration of First President Walter Douglas Smith. The Day was a beginning of a challenge for the staff and for Dr. Smith. In his remarks Dr. Smith expressed the feelings of the administration and faculty; "This is a happy occasion, but it is also a sobering one. The gap between what is and what must one day be at Francis Marion College is so great that all those administrative and faculty people and students who have responded to the challenge of building with me a new college live each day with a keen awareness of the enormous task we have undertaken."

TODAY IS THE LAST CHANCE FOR TOMORROW

We today must meet the challenge to apply the knowledge about us to improve our lives. This is not an easy task. In his Inaugural Address, President Walter Douglas Smith stated, "We live in an era when the challenge of relevance in education is interpreted as a call for colleges and universities to enter directly the social and political arenas of society. It seems quite probable that the future of higher education rests on our response to this challenge. I find it hard to believe that educational institutions can survive as communities committed to the life of the mind if they take active partisan roles in meeting these vital issues. The history of politicized colleges and universities holds little promise. And when institutions of higher learning become partisan, they will surely lose their effectiveness and influence as impartial sanctuaries for those who would play an intellectual rather than a political role."

"We realize that higher education can take place in settings other than the classroom"

Walter Douglas Smith

Francis Marion College offers its students a unique educational opportunity. Established in South Carolina's tricentennial year, the College attempts to associate the age-old educational facilities with generosity of college patrons and the knowledge of educators from across the nation as programs are planned to meet the needs of the students as they look forward to the future. The students are able to develop their individual talents and interests through various programs relevant to their life against a background of peace and solitude.

The year was full of various activities for Francis Marion students. The first dance of the year was held in the Stokes Hall parking lot. The students were entertained during the evening by the Huckleberry Mudflap.

The Monzas lended to the Halloween spirit. The costume ball was a huge success. The highlight of the evening was the presentation of award for the best costumes. Prizes went to Jeannie Voltz and Donnie Calhoun, dressed as a little boy and girl, for the most comical costumes. Prizes for the most original costumes went to Lisa McKnight and Phil Guyton. Best looking award went to Dominique Usery and Raymond Finkling, who were costumed as Scarlet O'Hara and Ashley Wilkes. Honorable mentions went to Cliff Stumbo and Debbie Horn, Bo Tyner and Delight Jackson, and Sue Holland and Louis Hodge.

The highlight of Spring Festivities was the formal dance held at the Florence Country Club. Students and faculty members were entertained by the Men of Distinction. Everyone danced and enjoyed themselves throughout the evening.

The Entertainment Series Committee and the SGA worked jointly to make the occasion a success. The Entertainment Committee has worked throughout the year planning the dances, and their efforts deserve the recognition and appreciation of the students.

In its attempt to offer the students a well-rounded education, Francis Marion College's Artist Series was formed in the hopes of bringing selected artists from over the nation to the Florence area. First semester, Francis Marion College was fortunate enough to present William Warfield in concert. Acclaimed internationally, the bass-baritone is known by his unique versatility as both singer and actor.

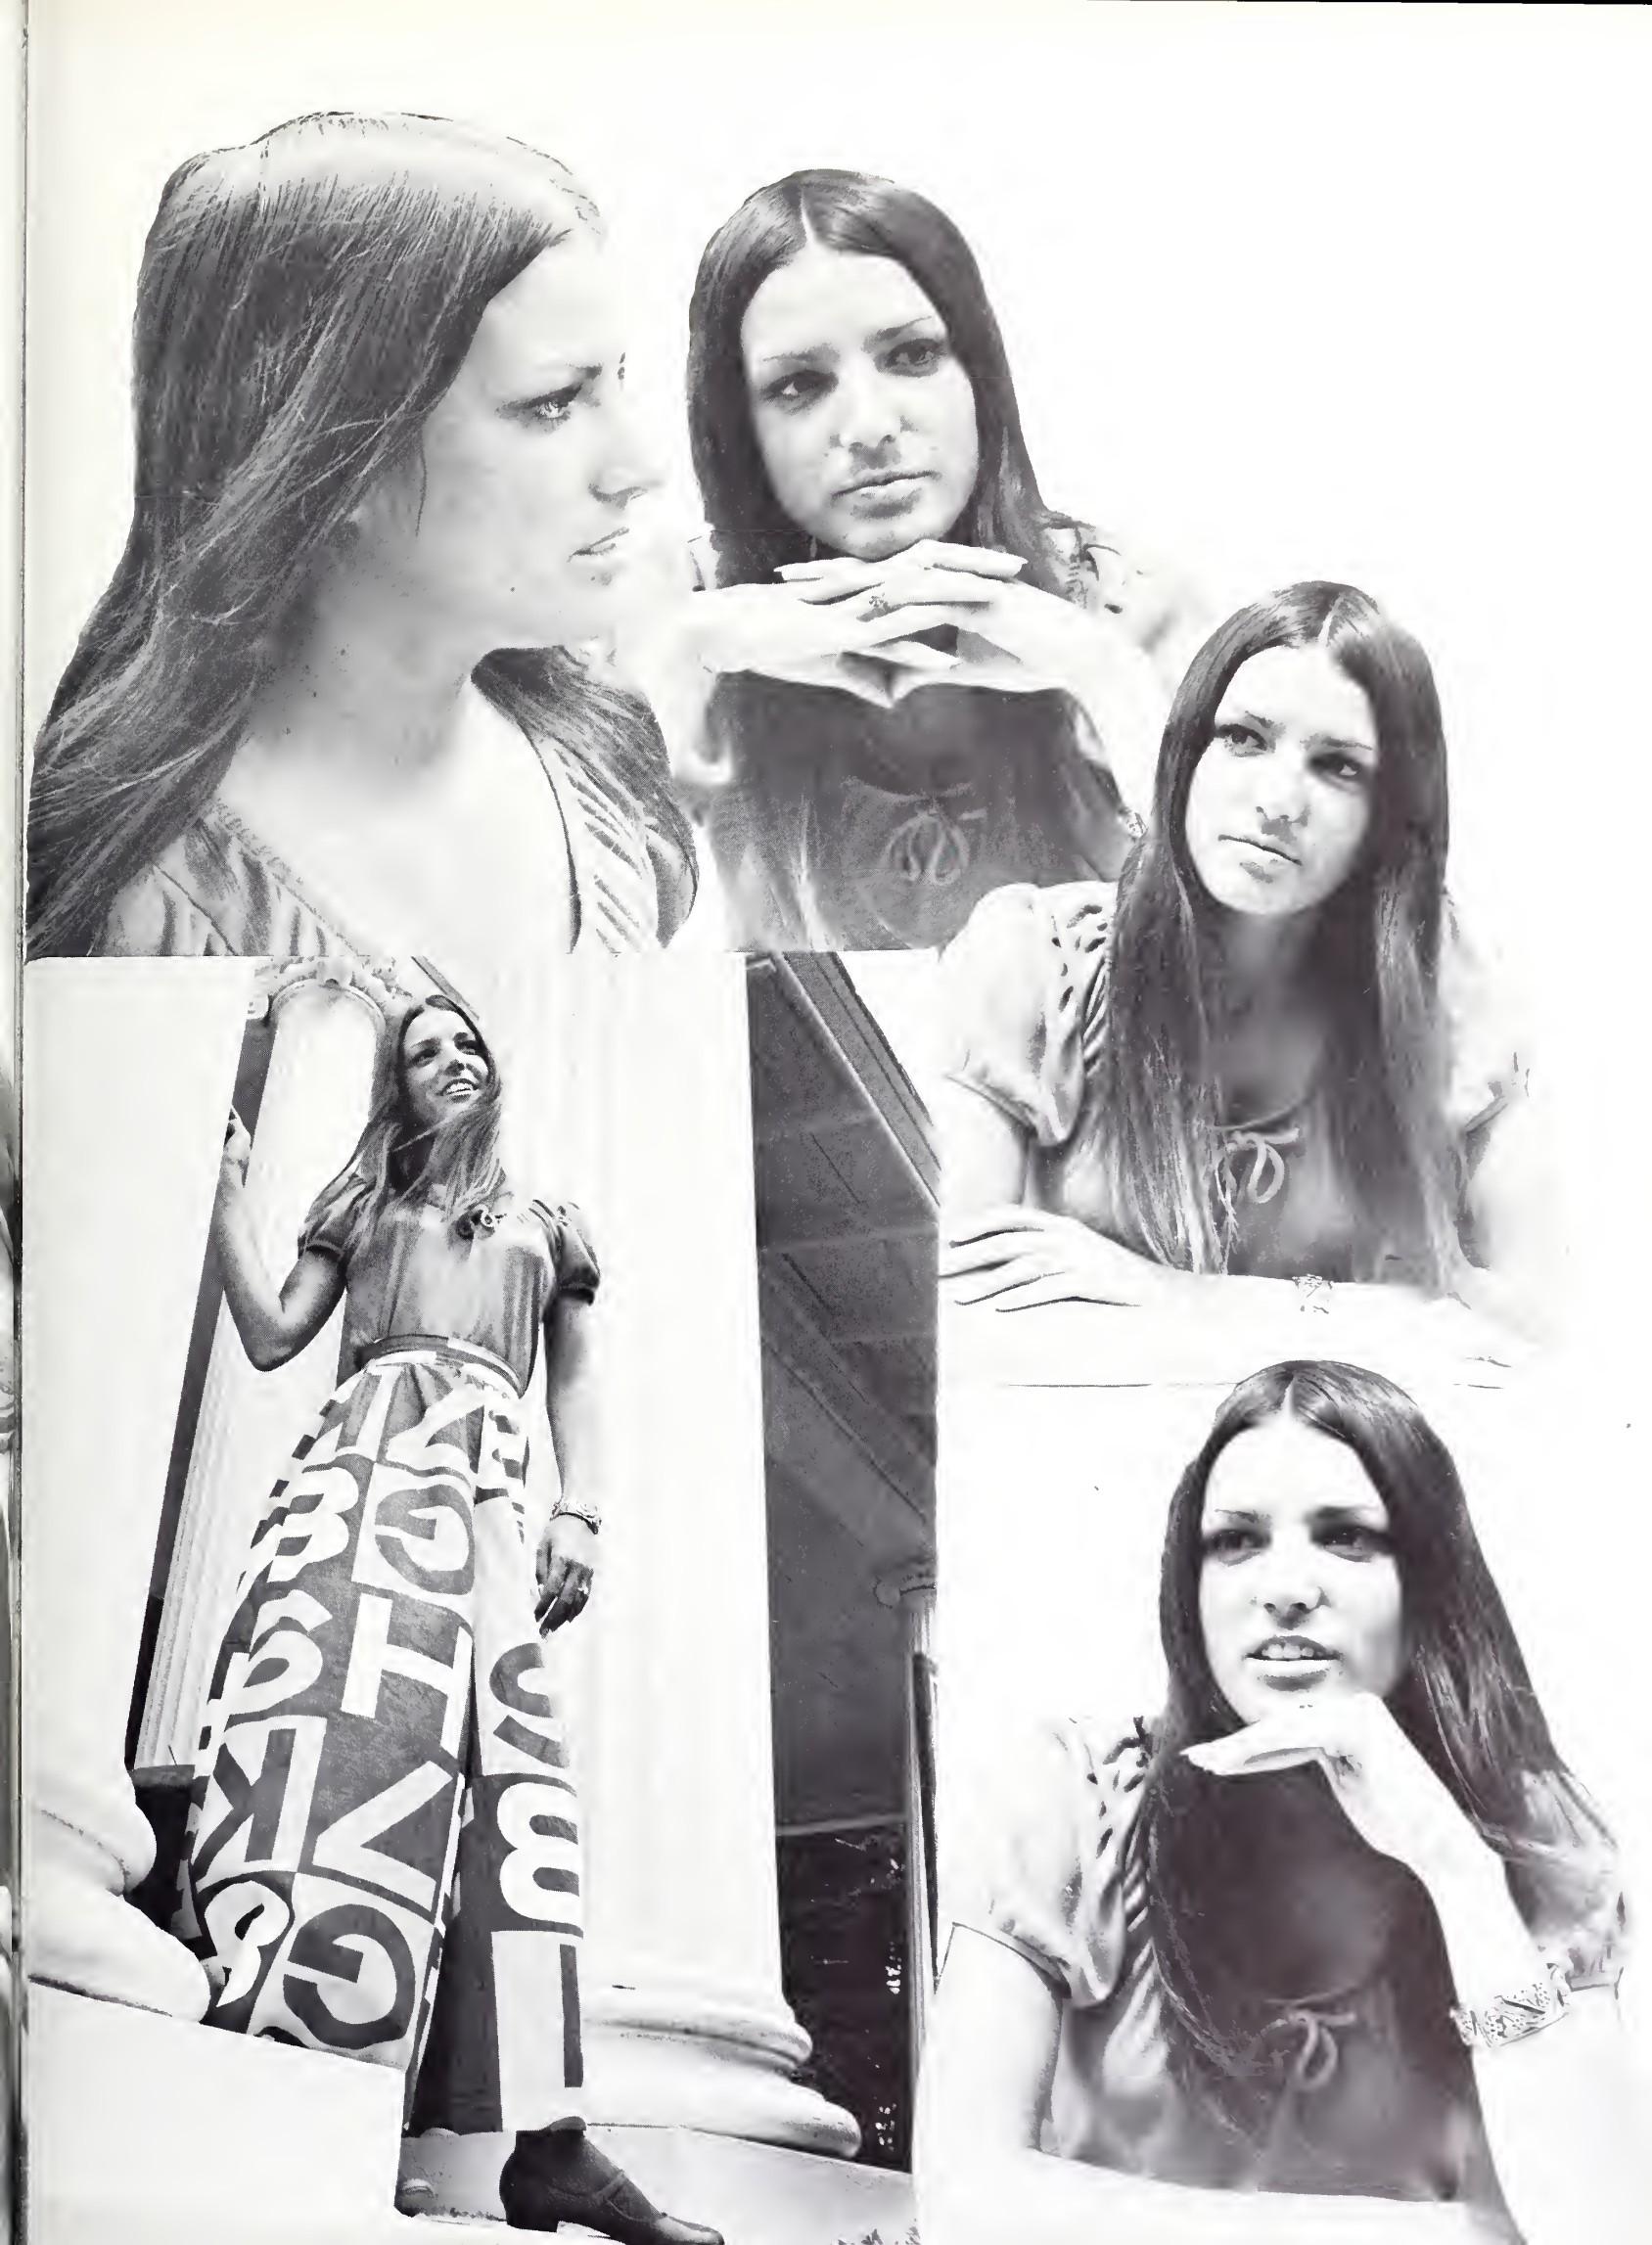

Mr. Warfield's versatility was well demonstrated during his Florence concert as his program ranged from Haydn, Schumann, Verdi, and Rossini to spirituals such as "Roll Jerd'n Roll", "Old Man River", sung at its chilling best, topped the evening's performance as did Mr. Warfield's encore performance of "Taint Necessarily So" and "Old Mother Hubbard".

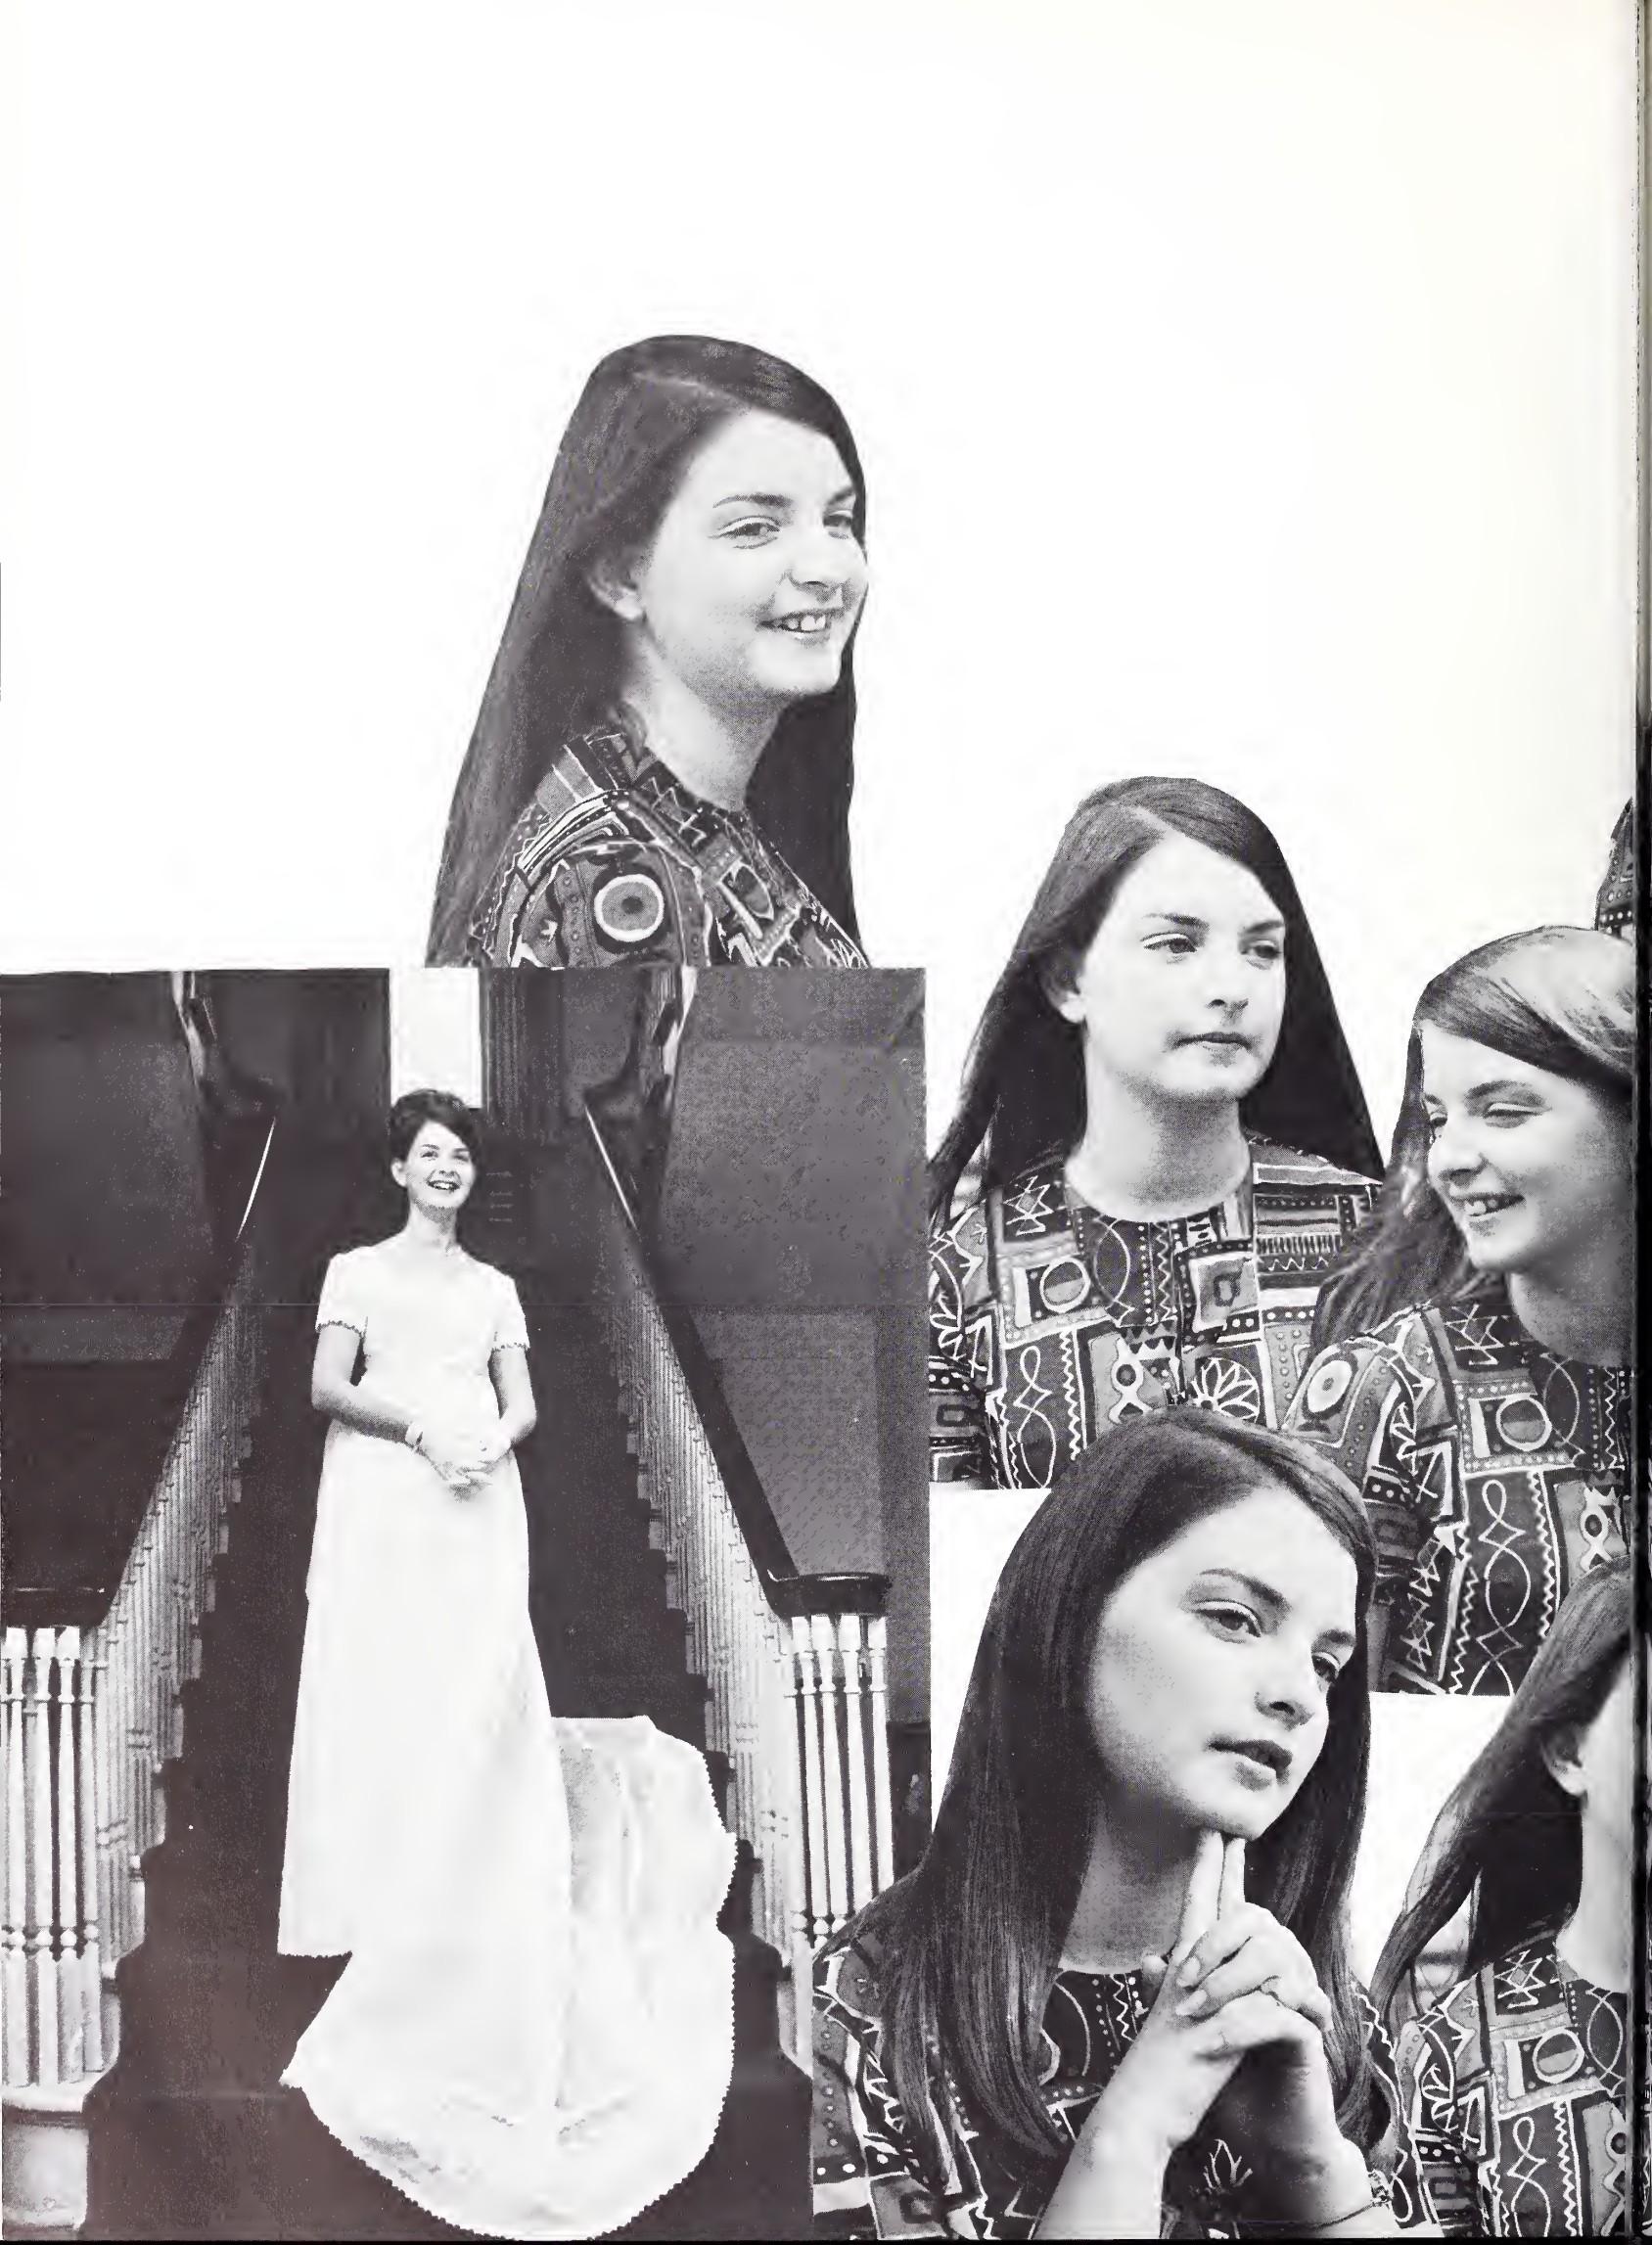

The community was again offered a fine performance during second semester as The National Ballet of Washington thrilled the audience with its imaginative interpretations of selections from "Swan Lake", "Concerto Barocco", "Con amor", and "Don Quixote, Pas de Deux."

Francis Marion College, South Carolina's newest four-year, state-supported institution of higher education, ended its first intercollegiate basketball season on February 27. The Patriots concluded the season with only two wins, as opposed to twenty defeats. After the final game of the season, Coach Hogsett said, "This has been a rough year for all of us, the players and myself, but we'll be back next year. We were outclassed many times this year, but our boys never gave up."

Hogsett continued, "Not having the big man, 'the chairman of the boards', cost us quite a few games this year, but we have several good prospects who are interested in joining next year's squad. I feel we had good guards this year, but next year we'll have the big man too. I don't mean to take anything away from this year's boys, but there is only so much you can do when you are giving away three inches per man in the front court.

We were on the bottom this year, but we'll be on our way up next year.

Since his mid-August appointment meant putting together a schedule on short notice, Coach Hogsett decided to enter his intercollegiate coaching career headfirst. He scheduled such schools as Wofford, Presbyterian, Lander, North Carolina Wesleyan, and Agusta College. Although clearly outmanned by most opponents, the Patriots, as Coach Hogsett observed, "battled many of them on even terms until the latter stages of the game when experience and superior height and strength of the opposing players began to take their toll."

Everyone at Francis Marion College is now looking to next season. This season's Patriots were all freshmen or sophomores but they will be returning next year. Coach Hogsett has been scouting several junior college players and also some of the local high school seniors. With the combination of the height gained by incoming players and the returning veterans of this past season Francis Marion College anticipates a substantial improvement in its basketball fortunes next year.

THE CAMPUS CRIER

Editor — Bob Abbott

Giving various views on a wide variety of subjects, The Campus Crier this year raised questions on topics ranging from FMC campus apathy to Calley. Editor Abbott and his staff have been very effective in presenting their own opinions and the opinions of any students who wanted to be heard.

The newspaper also gives students necessary information about campus events. It is a vital means for the administration to get information to the students.

Vignettes '71

Vignettes' 71, a classic in itself, was headed by Gloria Lussier, who was assisted by Billy Rauh. The staff strived in its work to give the students a picture history of Francis Marion College's first year of existence. Pam Hardy, Layout Editor, worked diligently with the staff to provide pages which would be appealing to the eye as well as carry out a theme of new existence. Gloria Hardy, Sports and Organizations editor, assisted by Louis Hodge, worked out the Sports and Club Sections. The Class Sections and Student Directory were submitted by Maggie Sebnick and Kay Stephens.

The Staff hopes to have given a fair review of the first year at Francis Marion College.

Through various community and student involved activities, the Student Government Association has strived to set a pattern of events which can be followed in the years ahead. The activities included trash can painting, the elections of Miss Francis Marion College and Miss Spring, decorating the Christmas float, and raising funds for the March of Dimes. Most importantly, a new Constitution was drawn up and has been approved by the student body.

The Student Government Association

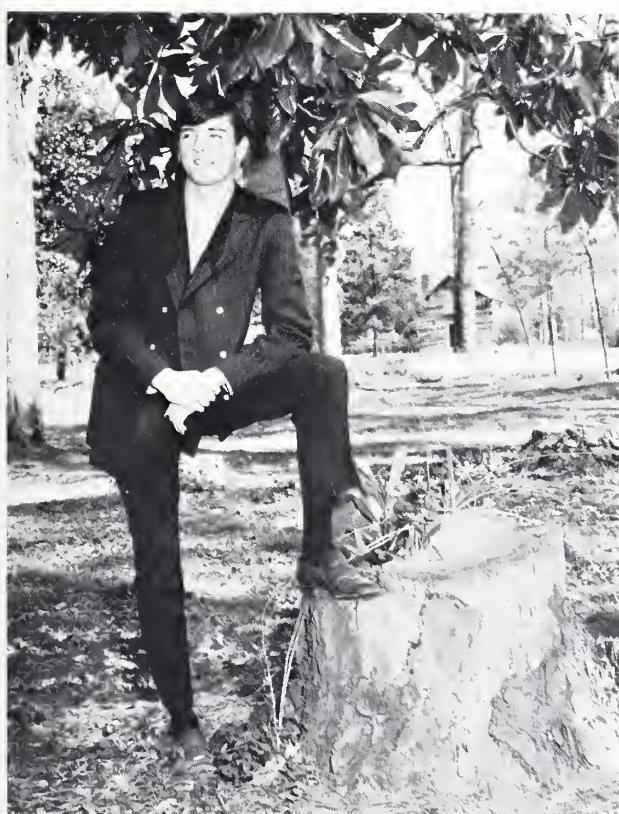

is an organization designed to represent and voice the opinions of the students at Francis Marion College. It has tried to reduce student apathy and establish a line of communication between the students, the faculty, and the administration.

As the end of the semester draws near, students begin to prepare for final exams. Everyone is anxious to do his best on this last test and then forget it all and relax during vacation.

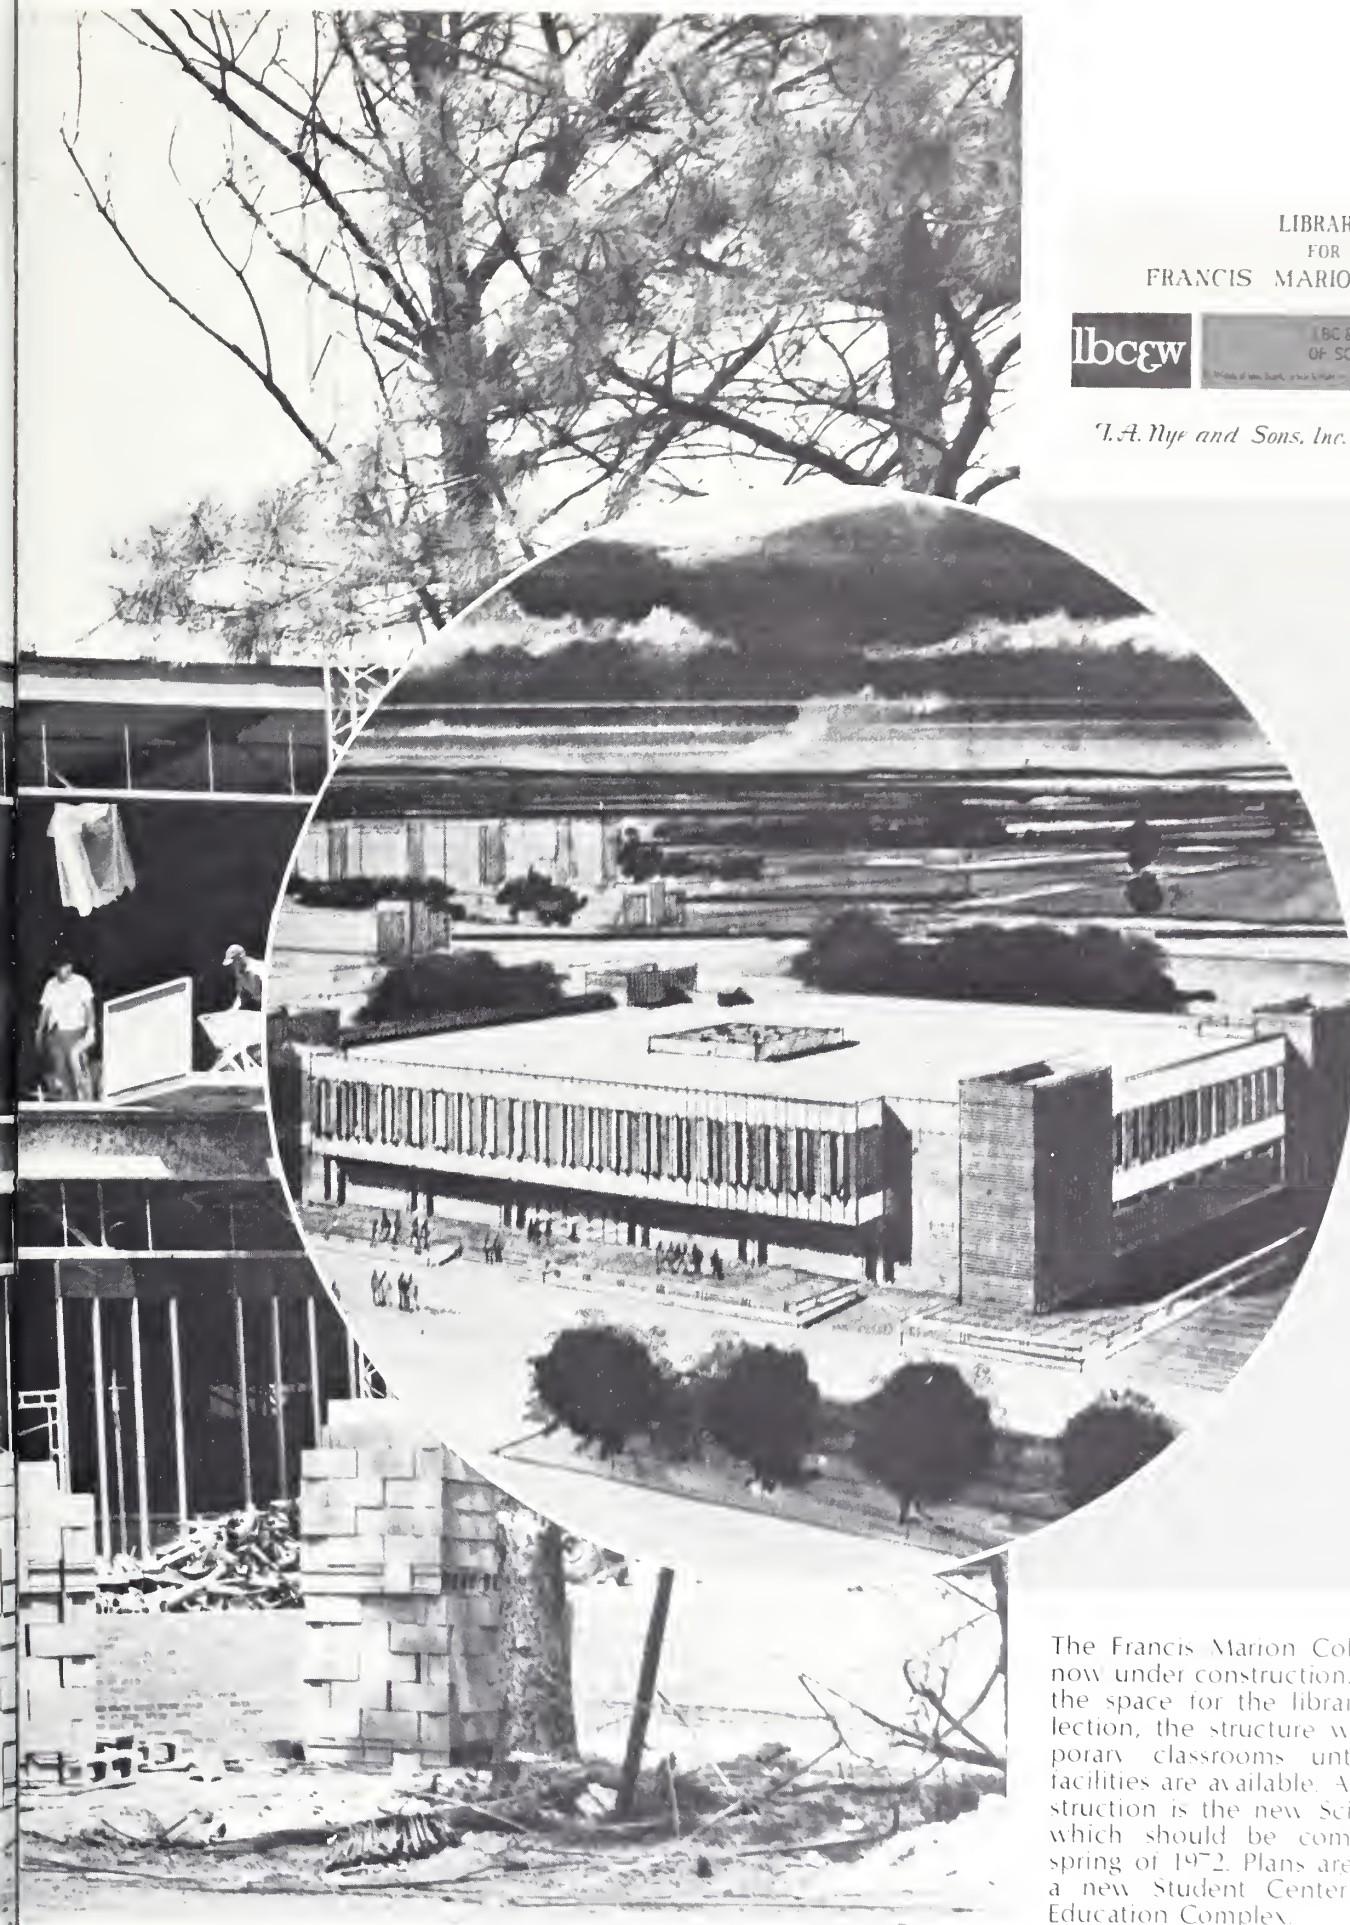

On May 8, 1971, Francis Marion College held its first Diploma Awards for graduates of the two-year program in technical nursing. Speaker for the occasion was Dr. Julian P. Price, Chief of Staff of the McLeod Infirmary, who spoke on "The Nursing Profession's Development." President Smith conferred degrees upon the candidates and Chairman of the State College Board of Trustees James A. Rogers gave the charge, "Your Nursing Future."

The Francis Marion College Library is now under construction. In addition to the space for the library and its collection, the structure will house temporary classrooms until appropriate facilities are available. Also under construction is the new Science Building which should be completed in the spring of 1972. Plans are underway to a new Student Center and Physical Education Complex.
